Jerry Fenwick presided at the November 14th meeting with 24 members present.

The following information was given by Jerry for consideration by all club members: " As you all are aware, we live in a busy world and while some of us are retired and have ample time to attend meetings - arrive on time and stay until the end, we have many members who because of work loads, family commitments, illness, other social engagements etc. cannot always get here every time or on time or stay for a full meeting - however you are all fellow stamp collectors and very important to our club and our hobby. We want you all to know - we want you here whenever you can come and for whatever time you can spend with us. Do not stay away just because you cannot come to every meeting or stay for a full meeting. You are important to us and we need you."

Ron Schultz gave covers for the drawing and Shirley Piekarski was winner of the money today.

Thanksgiving Eve, November 25th will be the 3rd Annual Musicians Ball with 6 bands participating to be held at the Peppermill, admission is $20.00 per couple.

Ruthe Dreiling has the Sees Candy catalogue, orders must be to her by November 20th.

Copies of the club by-laws were given to members today. If you missed getting yours be sure to ask the secretary for a copy. A big thank you goes to Ruthe for all of the work to complete these.

The Christmas party will be December 5th at Lucky Lane Recreation Center. Complete information has been sent to each member. It is a special fun time so everyone plan to attend.

Tea, coffee or cocoa and good homemade cookies were served by Bill Brew at break time. Thanks, Bill.

An exciting auction today; 48 lots on the board and 32 were sold. Dick did a super job as auctioneer.

The program was presented by Tom Morrissey on Ship Covers and Navy Covers. Some interesting cachets and cancellations.

The next meeting is November 28th, same time and same place.

The November 28th meeting was held at 2:10 P.M. with 20 members present.

Jerry announced final plans for the Christmas Party with directions. If you did not get to sign the sheet for refreshments in 1993 you may see Ruthe or Kay.

Several packets of covers were given for the auction and Jerry won the cash today.

Al Shay reminded us that before we throw away any stamp items it is important to check and be sure what we are throwing away.

NEXT REGULAR MEETING - JANUARY 9, 1993

Chuck Clipper and Rick Sorenson furnished good refreshments today.

Dick was auctioneer today with 41 lots on the board and 12 remained unsold. Some real good material!

Dick Dreiling has had to resign as NEVPEX Chairman. His work schedule is very uncertain and he is away from the Reno area a lot. We need someone to fill this position, please think about it and talk to Dick, he is willing to help.

John Swanson was welcomed back into the club he has been away from the area and we are happy to see him back with us.

January 9th refreshments will be by Dick Dreiling and on the 23rd Kay Williams.

Then let us remember January 23rd General Auction. This is always a lot of fun and an opportunity to share some of our valuable material with other members of the club.

LOOKING FORWARD TO SEEING EACH OF YOU ON DECEMBER 5th FOR THE CHRISTMAS PARTY. MAKE YOUR SPECIAL RECIPE AND COME FOR A FUN EVENING. FAMILY AND FRIENDS ARE WELCOME.

TO WISH YOU A
Merry Christmas

USPS unveils 1993 design

On Sept. 3, the United States Postal Service unveiled this design for a 1993 commemorative stamp. The stamp, scheduled for an April 17 release, commemorates the Cherokee Strip land rush of 1893. The unveiling took place in Enid, Okla. The stamp is the second U.S. issue commemorating the Cherokee Strip.

The United States issued this 6c Cherokee Strip commemorative in 1968, and a 1989 postal card marking centennial of the first Oklahoma land run.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD

The Simon Wiesenthal Center revealed recently that Iran's philatelic contribution to the 1991 International Day of the Child commission was a commemorative of a young boy hurling a rock through a window on which was emblazoned a Star of David. (The delegate from Iran was elected vice chairman this year of the Commission on Human Rights.)
