

Learning to Exhibit your Collection

by Marla Wetterling

I hadn't been on our club website in a while, but there is a section for exhibits and it currently has two exhibits by Dick Dreiling and one from Jean Johnson. John and I don't always make it to the show as I'm sure you could have viewed them in person there, but what a treat to see them on your computer. We have quite a few members who are experienced exhibitors so if you are interested in learning how to exhibit, don't be shy ask Dick, Terri or Harvey Edwards, Jean Johnson or just about any club member can point you in the right direction. I've got to get going on my Scottish Castle/Abbey exhibit again. Maybe when things slow down.

Keep in mind that you can start out slow by just doing a page or two to be included in our club's My Favorite Things Exhibit or start out with a specific topic of interest. I think exhibits are a clever way for collectors to share this hobby with other people. Exhibits in my opinion bring life to stamp collecting.

Even if you don't have a computer at home, check this out at a library or friends house and see what you're missing.

As a person who has only exhibited once a few years back, I love the way Dick did his exhibit on Nevada's First Residents. This is the format I was trying to achieve with my exhibit. You can only gain this level of expertise through years of experience. – Marla
